

WERS^{for}Film

➤ The only accreditation program in Australia for window film installers

WERS For Film explained.

WERS stands for the Window Energy Rating Scheme, an annual energy performance tool that helps consumers compare glazing products. WERS For Film is a stand-alone accreditation and rating program within WERS.

As a window film installer, gaining your WERS For Film licence will give you exclusive authority to:

promote yourself as an accredited installer, install and certify WERS rated films, and issue a WERS For Film energy certificate

Window Energy Rating for Film Applied to a Window System
Relevant Specialty Films
WERS For Film Accredited
Applied Film on WERS Classed Window System
Stars: 3 for Heating, 4 for Cooling
22 % for Heating, 35 % for Cooling
COMPARATIVE HOUSE ENERGY RATING SAVINGS*

Certificate of Accreditation
This is to certify
Succesfully completed the WERS For Film Accreditation course and is a WERS For Film Accredited Individual Valid to Accreditation Number
wfaanz

WERS For Film accreditation helps you win jobs, differentiate yourself from competitors, get established as an 'energy expert' and access industry training and information.

It makes life easier for the consumer too, helping them select the right film, choose the best installer and achieve the ultimate energy rating for their home, which could increase its value.

Getting certified.

You must have a WERS For Film licence to certify the film manufacturer's WERS For Film energy ratings and issue an energy certificate to your clients.

Accreditation is achieved by taking the:

1. Flat glass exam, and the
2. WERS For Film training course

Both are done online - at a time and place of your choosing.
Contact WFAANZ to learn more or to register.

info@wfaanz.org.au

02 9160 4736

wfaanz.org.au

Scammers beware.

A list of current, financial WERS For Film accredited individuals is maintained on the WFAANZ website, www.wfaanz.org.au/WERS.

A client, assessor or certifier can check your WERS For Film details at any time. Legal action will be taken if an installer misrepresents their WERS For Film status.

Investment in credibility.

WFAANZ - the non-profit association representing the window film industry - manages WERS For Film.

Thanks to significant discounts reserved for WFAANZ members, a WFAANZ membership plus a WERS For Film licence is cheaper than a WERS For Film licence for a non member.

Cost of gaining a
WERS For Film
licence for a
WFAANZ member

$742.50 incl GST

Cost of gaining a
WERS For Film
licence for a non member

$1347.50 incl GST

DID YOU KNOW?

It's $200* cheaper to join WFAANZ and get a WERS licence as a member, than it is to gain it as a non member

*Including GST